

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES

Religious Studies
& Classics

RELI 406 RELIGIOUS DIVERSITY IN HEALTHCARE: Intercultural Training

This course counts towards the new B.S. degree in Religious Studies for Health Professionals, but all are welcome! No pre-reqs or prior knowledge needed.

RELI 406/506: Religious Diversity in Healthcare (3 units) In person Tues. 12:30-1:45, the rest online!

This course is designed to offer tools for understanding religious and cultural diversity within healthcare settings, which includes consideration of religious patients, religious healthcare workers, faith-based healthcare institutions, and the impact of religious communities on healthcare laws and services

- Learn about religious perspectives and practices regarding health that health professionals encounter in the United States
- Develop intercultural competence for engaging with religious diversity in healthcare settings

QUESTIONS? Email Prof. Slominski at slominski@arizona.edu

religion.arizona.edu