

Getting to Grad School Panel

Join WISE for a professional development panel bringing together current graduate students in Engineering, Biomedical sciences, Applied Mathematics, and UArizona Graduate College staff to discuss trajectories into and provide insights on graduate program identification, application, admission, and acceptance processes.

This panel is the second in a yearlong series of professional development events convened as part of WISE's Women in STEM Mentorship Program.

Free, open to all, and light refreshments will be provided!

Thursday, November 16th, 12:15-1:15 PM
